1. How has your on-the-job training helped you to perform your job duties? Please give one or two examples.

Our training programme provides one-on-one mentoring in the workplace, coaching sessions by top management and a comprehensive job rotation scheme, where trainees can rotate to different roles and construction stages within certain time frames.

In particular, the monthly site observation report sessions in the early training stage helped to clear my misunderstanding on some site practices, and raised my awareness of planning and management. My business presentation skill is much enhanced as well through our bi-annual presentations to top management.

2. What was the most meaningful experience at Hip Hing Construction Co. for you? Why?

One of my unforgettably meaningful experiences was the charity visit to Hebei, China in 2014 on behalf of the Company and the Company's volunteer team, which reminds me of the importance of thanksgiving in work and in life. As a responsible citizen and professional, we should play a significant role in serving our community to promote good health and well-being.

3. Do you have any advice for our current students on how to get into the Project MT Programme at Hip Hing? How should they prepare themselves?

I believe competency comes from experiences and hard work. As a motivated young professional, we should all work hard and be smart. Do try your best and seize every opportunity to learn and experience, no matter whether it is sweet or sour. Please do not forget to stay positive and disciplined, grasp every chance to join industrial activities or gatherings to expand your social network.
