Qualitative Research Methods: Analysis of Data and the Use of Computers

By

Dr Eben Weitzman
University of Massachusetts Boston, USA

Date: Friday, 12 December 2008
Time: 11:00 a.m. - 12:00 noon
Venue: M802

All interested are welcome
Qualitative Research Methods: Analysis of Data and the Use of Computers

ABSTRACT

Qualitative data can yield rich insights and deep description of social phenomena, yet doing so in a meaningful and rigorous manner can be a daunting task. In this seminar, we will consider the foundations of a rigorous approach to qualitative data analysis, and look at cutting edge software tools that can aid the process. We will consider both the principles underlying sound qualitative research, and the specific practices for organizing and interpreting qualitative data in a rigorous way. Finally, we will examine the ways in which the newest software tools support these practices.