

Let's Serve and Learn

PolyU strives to provide you with ample opportunities to put classroom theories into practice and to cope with different sorts of challenges. The Community Service Learning Programme (CSLP) is one of the many initiatives aimed at achieving this. Through serving the community, you come to understand more about the real world and your own potential, become more capable in problem solving and communicating with others, while also developing a strong sense of social responsibility. What's better than learning while serving?

In 2010-11, PolyU and the Sham Shui Po District Social Welfare Office will jointly organise the "CSLP in Sham Shui Po". You are encouraged to join as volunteers to implement sustainable and meaningful service projects for Sham Shui Po.
