

On Numerical Approximation of a Variational Inequality Governing American Option Pricing

Song Wang

Abstract: In this talk I will present some of our latest advances in the numerical solution of a variational inequality problem involving the Black-Scholes equation governing American and European option pricing. These include a penalty method for a complementarily problem and discretization of the Black-Scholes equation.