Objectives	1. Understand the process of globalization in Hong Kong and Mainland China; 2. Develop a new understanding of Hong Kong and Chinese societies in a

	global context; 3. Explore a sustainable development that can move beyond market economy and planned economy.
Intended Learning Outcomes (Note 1)	Upon completion of the subject, students will be able to: (a) Enhance their understanding of the theories and concepts of globalization; (b) Identify the major developmental stages in China and analyze how they are related to processes of globalization (c) Explore the relationship between global processes and local development in Hong Kong and Mainland China cities; (d) Critically evaluate the benefits and problems related to globalization in China. Please explain how the stated learning outcomes relate to the following three essential features of GUR subjects: Literacy, Higher order thinking, and Skills for life-long learning Literacy Students are required to read the assigned reading materials before attending lectures. The quiz will assess student’s understanding of those reading materials, as well as lecture content. Higher order thinking By using different analytical perspectives and theories, students will be exposed to a variety of problems concerning globalization and Chinese society. The teaching and learning processes will emphasize “critical thinking”: different viewpoints and multiple perspectives will be introduced and critically compared. Student will be exposed to deep-rooted problems in China such as severe rural urban divide and developmental strategies. Students will be required to critically evaluate the past and current models of development. They would be encouraged to explore various alternative models that would move beyond market economy and planned economy. Life-long learning Students will gain a better understanding of globalization process in Chinese societies. This will better equip them to tackle individual, professional and societal challenges in a globalized city.

Note 1: Intended Learning Outcomes

Intended learning outcomes should state what students should be able to do or attain upon completion of the subject. Subject outcomes are expected to contribute to the attainment of the overall programme outcomes.

Note 2: Subject Synopsis/ Indicative Syllabus

The syllabus should adequately address the intended learning outcomes. At the same time over-crowding of the syllabus should be avoided.

Note 3: Teaching/Learning Methodology

This section should include a brief description of the teaching and learning methods to be employed to facilitate learning, and a justification of how the methods are aligned with the intended learning outcomes of the subject.

Note 4: Assessment Method

This section should include the assessment method(s) to be used and its relative weighting, and indicate which of the subject intended learning outcomes that each method purports to assess. It should also provide a brief explanation of the appropriateness of the assessment methods in assessing the intended learning outcomes.
