

Speech Therapy Unit Fluency Training Series (Course code: FLUENCY-202407)

Stuttering Remediation Course

FREE for PolyU staff/student/ dependant

Stuttering can affect the fluency of speech. Its characteristics include blocks, repetitions of part-words or words, and prolonged sounds. Individuals who stutter may also exhibit secondary characteristics such as eye blinks, facial grimacing, or other physical tension or struggle while stuttering. Stuttering often begins in childhood and in some cases can persist into adolescence and adulthood. This course aims to evaluate and manage stuttering problems by:

- Enhancing knowledge on stuttering
- · Improving fluency of speech
- Problem-solving in difficult speaking situations

Instructors: the training will be planned and conducted by student clinicians from the PolyU Master of Speech Therapy programme and supervised by qualified Speech Therapist with extensive clinical experience

Target participants: adults or children with diagnosed or suspected speech fluency problems

Medium of instruction: Cantonese or English
