

Subject Code	ENGL4003
Subject Title	Capstone Project for Language Studies
Credit Value	6
Level	4
Pre-requisite	ENGL3002 Research Methods for Language Studies
Objectives	To build on knowledge students have acquired from the subject Research Methods for Language Studies, as well as from other relevant courses learned during the first three years of the Programme, the Capstone Project aims at helping students to carry out a systematic investigation of issues related to English language or communication, preferably in professional contexts, including educational contexts.
Intended Learning Outcomes	Upon completion of the subject, students will be able to: Category A: Professional/academic knowledge and skills <ol style="list-style-type: none"> a. Demonstrate a high level of professional communicative competence in written English through a final dissertation; b. identify and analyse language related issues systematically and logically; c. select, organise and integrate knowledge from one or more areas of English language studies to tackle topics selected for the project; d. present research results in a clear, effective and convincing manner. Category B: Attributes for all-roundedness <ol style="list-style-type: none"> e. work critically and independently; f. exercise sound judgement and develop intellectual curiosity; g. display good skills in time and self management; h. apply problem-solving skills to careers, personal development and life-long learning.
Subject Synopsis/ Indicative Syllabus	With advice from the Capstone Project Coordinator and project supervisors, students select, justify and apply techniques learnt from Research Methods for Language Studies and other related subjects to design, conduct and write up the Dissertation for submission by the end of Semester 2, Year 4. Detailed guidelines for conducting the Capstone Project will be made available to the students at the beginning of Semester 1, Year 4.

	In conceptualising and designing the project, students can consider one of the following directions: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Students can follow usual approaches to designing and conducting a research project, applying skills and knowledge learnt from the subject Research Methods for Language Studies and other subjects. 2. Students may wish to consider conducting the project in the context of professional workplaces. For example, they can design and conduct the project at the organization where they completed their Work-integrated Education (WIE) Placements or Service Learning, of course with permission from their workplace supervisors. In this case, students are encouraged to consider designing a project for solving a practical problem related to the actual workplace/profession/industry/community.
Teaching/ Learning Methodology	Capstone Projects are coordinated by the Project Coordinator. Each student will be assigned a Project Supervisor. Students will take two semesters to complete the subject, and are required to complete the subject independently, though with regular advice from their Project Supervisors.
