

THE HONG KONG POLYTECHNIC UNIVERSITY FOUNDATION

 CONSTITUTION ***

I. Background

1. The Hong Kong Polytechnic University Development Foundation (“PUDF”) of The Hong Kong Polytechnic University (“University”) was established in 2006. PUDF is a fundraising scheme and its administration and account are under the University’s management. Donors to PUDF who have made cumulative donations of such amounts determined by PUDF from time to time have been honoured as various membership categories of PUDF.
2. In addition, a Fund-raising Committee (“FC”) was established in July 2002 as a standing committee under the Council of the University to provide direction on the overall planning and assistance in the implementation of the University’s fund-raising drives.
3. Pursuant to Section 6(k) of The Hong Kong Polytechnic University Ordinance, Cap 1075 (the “Ordinance”), the Council has power to receive and solicit gifts and act as trustee of moneys and other property vested in the University on trust. Pursuant to Section 9(1) of the Ordinance, the Council may appoint such committee for any general or special purposes as it thinks fit and any such committee may consist partly of persons who are not members of the Council.
4. To consolidate the work of PUDF and FC and to strengthen the capabilities of the University for raising funds, it was resolved by the Council of the University on 25 March 2014 that a committee be established in the name of “The Hong Kong Polytechnic University Foundation” (hereinafter referred to as the “Foundation”) to combine PUDF and FC. The Foundation is a committee under the Council of the University.
5. The Foundation will benefit from the experience and social networks of the donors and supporters of the University who are willing to continue supporting the University. The Foundation will also serve as a structure to encourage donors to play an active role in fundraising with a view to addressing the long-term needs of the University.
6. Existing donors of PUDF may be honoured according to the aggregate amounts that they have contributed and participated in the recognition scheme of the Foundation.
7. New donors and benefactors will be approached to support the University through the Foundation and will be recognized with the recognition scheme as described herein.
8. This Constitution, which was approved by a resolution of the Council of the University made on 25 March 2014, sets out the details about the Foundation.

II. Name

9. The name of the Foundation shall be “The Hong Kong Polytechnic University Foundation (香港理工大學基金)”.

III. Address

10. The address of the Foundation shall be “c/o The Hong Kong Polytechnic University, Hung Hom, Kowloon, Hong Kong”.

IV. Objects

11. The objects of the Foundation are: -
 - (a) to secure funding resources to support the University so as:
 - i. to enhance the quality of teaching and learning through the improvement of facilities and related resources of the University;
 - ii. to advance research and technology development to meet the needs of various sectors of the society; and
 - iii. to further the all-round development of the students at the University and to enhance their competitiveness;
 - (b) in the furtherance of the aims, goals and values of the University but not otherwise, to seek financial support from individuals, organizations, corporations, regional, national, and international governments, governmental and non-governmental agencies interested in the objects of the University and in support of its activities;
 - (c) to assist the University in representing and promoting its aims, goals and values to the community at large in order to motivate individuals, corporations and other bodies to endow the University via the Foundation;
 - (d) to further enhance the fundraising capabilities of the University in the ever more competitive environment of fundraising;
 - (e) to take a leading role in identifying and soliciting private funding for and on behalf of the University;
 - (f) to enable and encourage donors to play an active role in fundraising with a view to addressing the long-term needs of the University;
 - (g) to tap into resources and social networks of the donors and supporters of the University who are willing to continue supporting the University in its development and education; and
 - (h) to advise the President and the Vice President responsible for institutional advancement of the University on the support available from the community, industry and corporation for fundraising endeavours, and on strategies for fundraising.

V. Status

- 12.1 The Foundation shall not be a separate legal entity but shall be a committee under the Council of the University with a designated ledger account.

- 122 The Governing Committee of the Foundation may decide on matters concerning membership as stipulated in Clauses 13 to 15 of this Constitution. Save as aforesaid, all other decisions of the Governing Committee of the Foundation shall be subject to the further consideration and approval of the Council of the University.
- 123 The Council of the University shall be the supreme advisory body from whom the Foundation shall seek advice and guidance.
