

Guidelines on Research Student Attachment Programme – Outgoing

2026/27 (1st Round)

1. Introduction

Research Student Attachment Programme (RSAP) – Outgoing provides PolyU PhD students with an opportunity to pursue research attachment (hereafter “attachment”) at international institutions to foster collaborative research, and enhance students’ international networking and global vision. Two rounds of applications are invited each year.

2. Application conditions

- 2.1 Applications for an attachment to a university or a top research institute outside the applicant’s home country are eligible. However, an exception applies to applications for attachment to Zhejiang University, which are funded by the Zhejiang University Special Funding Scheme (ZJUSFS) operated within RSAP. Please refer to item 7.1.
- 2.2 The duration of attachment is from a minimum of three months to a maximum of one year. For students from Dual PhD Degree Programme/Joint PhD Supervision Programmes Leading to a PolyU Degree (Dual/Joint PhD students) and Hong Kong PhD Fellowship Scheme (HKPFS) awardees, please refer to the specific duration requirements detailed in items 3.4 and 3.5, respectively.

3. Applicant eligibility

- 3.1 Current PhD students with good academic standing are eligible for application.
- 3.2 The applicant and host supervisor should have common research interests to ensure high-quality supervision.
- 3.3 Students whose PhD registration is not confirmed may be given a conditional offer to undertake the attachment programme. If they cannot have their PhD registration confirmed before the latest commencement date of the attachment programme, the conditional offer will lapse automatically.
- 3.4 Dual/Joint PhD students are eligible to apply for an attachment of up to six months. The attachment must be conducted within their study period at PolyU. Students must obtain consent from both supervisors as well as the partner institution before application.
- 3.5 HKPFS awardees are eligible to apply for an attachment of no less than 85 days. Students are reminded to note the residence requirement set out in the Terms and Conditions of the Scheme, which specifies “If an awardee stays outside Hong Kong for academic/research activity for an aggregate period exceeding 90 consecutive days, or an aggregate of 183 days, the stipend will be suspended immediately unless prior approval by the Research Grants Council (RGC) has been given upon provision of strong justification by the affiliated university”, and obtain prior approval from the RGC before departure. Students should submit a request separately to gs.matters@polyu.edu.hk at least 2 months prior to the planned departure date.
- 3.6 Students may receive financial support from either RSAP or the International Collaborative Research Fellowship (ICRF) only once during their study period.

4. Application procedures and timeline

- 4.1 Applicants should seek the consent of the proposed host supervisor prior to application.
- 4.2 Application can be made via online submission system. The application timeline is presented in the Appendix. Late or incomplete applications will not be processed. Required submission documents include:
  - An invitation letter on the host unit’s official letterhead, specifying the full name of the PhD student, the name of the host supervisor, and the attachment period.
  - The latest assessment results downloaded from eStudent.
  - A brief resume of the applicant with a list of representative publications;
  - A brief resume of the host supervisor (up to 5 pages) with a list of representative publications;

- Written approval from the supervisor of the partner institution (applicable to Dual/Joint PhD students only); and
  - [Form GSB/J4B] Study Plan for the Dual PhD Degree and Joint PhD Supervision Programmes Leading to a PolyU Award (applicable to Dual/Joint PhD students only).
- 4.3 For applications for attachment to a research institute, applicants should provide evidence, e.g., webpage, to support that the host is a top research institute in the respective discipline.

5. Application selection and approval

- 5.1 All applications undergo a rigorous panel review process.
- Applications must receive endorsement from the PolyU Chief Supervisor and the respective Director of Research Postgraduate Studies (DoRPgS).
  - The Graduate School (GS) shall select and approve applications based on application quality and potential internationalisation impact.
- 5.2 Application approval is subject to funding availability.

6. Period of attachment

- 6.1 The period of attachment will be counted within the normal study period of the student. The completion date of the attachment programme must not exceed the student's normal period of study. For Dual/Joint PhD students, please refer to 3.4.
- 6.2 Successful applicants will receive an offer letter from the GS detailing the application result, period of attachment and the approved financial support. The offer is valid for nine months after the issue date of the letter.
- 6.3 Successful applicants should adhere to the approved attachment duration. In the event of a change in the attachment duration, prior approval from the chief supervisor must be sought by email, and DoRPgS should be informed. Students should forward the written approval to the GS for the record.
- 6.4 Successful applicants should commit to full-time research at the host unit. Students who have a genuine need to attend a conference during the attachment, which is supported by both their home and host supervisors, must obtain prior approval from the GS by email. If approved, the RSAP subsistence allowance will be reduced based on the number of days away from the attachment. The period away does not count towards the minimum duration requirement of the attachment.

7. Financial support

- 7.1 Successful applicants will be offered a subsistence allowance of HK$250 per day. The maximum allowance is capped at HK$45,000, i.e., the amount for a maximum of 180 days.
- Notwithstanding the foregoing, PolyU students from the Faculty of Business, the Faculty of Construction and Environment, and the School of Hotel and Tourism Management who attach to Zhejiang University are entitled to a monthly allowance of RMB$7,500 with a cap of RMB$45,000 under ZJUSFS.
- 7.2 Successful applicants will be offered a flat-rate travel allowance of HK$10,000 to cover travel expenses, including round-trip transportation between Hong Kong and the host institution and ticket-related taxes, fees and levies. Students must submit inbound and outbound boarding passes to the GS for reimbursement purposes upon completion.
- 7.3 Any visiting period before the issue date of the offer letter is not eligible for retroactive financial support.
- 7.4 Successful applicants will continue to receive stipends and pay tuition fees as required by PolyU, if applicable.
- 7.5 Students are responsible for any tuition and other fees specified by the host university. Students are advised to consult the host supervisor prior to submitting their application.

8. Reimbursement

- 8.1 Applicants are reminded not to commit any expenses until both official approval from the GS and visa approval are granted. Any expenses committed before these approvals will not be reimbursed.

- 8.2 The financial support will be released in two instalments. Upon receipt of a departure form and supporting documents from students, 75% of the approved subsistence allowance will be released. The remaining amount of subsistence allowance and travel allowance are reimbursable upon submission of a reimbursement form and required documents, including airfare receipt and boarding passes, after completion of the attachment programme. The actual amount of subsistence allowance is based on the actual attachment duration. All forms are downloadable on the GS website.
- 8.3 All reimbursement must be made within three months of the completion of the attachment programme.

9. Visa and accommodation arrangements

- 9.1 Visa and accommodation arrangements are to be made by the students. Students should take visa processing time into consideration when proposing the commencement date of the attachment.
- 9.2 For the visa application process, certain countries require an official certification of financial support and student status. Students can apply for a testimonial to certify their monthly stipends and student status by “Application for Testimonial” (Form GSB/19) downloadable on the GS website.

10. Credit transfer

Students who have successfully completed research postgraduate subjects outside PolyU may transfer credits in accordance with the University’s procedures governing credit transfer. Students should submit a completed “Application for Transfer of Credits from Studies Taken Outside PolyU after Admission” (Form GSB/48), downloadable on the GS website. For specific application procedures, please refer to the Research Postgraduate Student Handbook.

11. Intellectual property rights

Students are reminded that the intellectual property rights of all your inventions, research outputs, works and designs in all forms arising from your attachment programme at the host institution, whether on an individual or collaborative basis, shall be owned by The Hong Kong Polytechnic University. In special circumstances, the ownership of intellectual property rights is subject to mutual agreements between PolyU and the host institution. For details, please consult the Knowledge Transfer and Entrepreneurship Office by email at info.kteo@polyu.edu.hk.

12. Enquiries

For enquiries, please contact the GS by email at gs.attachment@polyu.edu.hk.

In the event of any disputes, the University reserves the right to make the final decision.
