

Networking for the MA Program in World Heritage & Tourism

The UNESCO UNITWIN Chair in Culture, Tourism, Development is based at the Sorbonne University-Paris and is now developing a network of universities offering a Master program and being actively involved in research in the field of World Heritage & Tourism Management.

The objectives are:

- To promote a complete system of research, training, information and documentation activities in order to contribute to the formulation of cultural tourism strategies for sustainable development, i.e. ensuring the long-term conservation of the sites, the participation of local populations in the projects as well as in the repercussions of tourism while facilitating the dialogue between cultures.
- To contribute to the sub-regional, regional and interregional co-operation between high level internationally recognized researchers and professors and the teaching and research staff of the University.
