OPUS (Open Platform for University Scholars) is a platform where you can explore researchers, activities and achievements of our University. PolyU's internationally recognised research has produced an abundance of innovations, from world changing discoveries to business and industrial solutions and innovations for social good. The availability of state-of-the-art research centres and facilities have fostered ground-breaking multidisciplinary collaborations and research outcomes.

With a strategic emphasis on applied research, PolyU firmly believes that research is an integral part of academic life on campus. It informs teaching and advances the frontiers of knowledge and technology, thus contributing to enhancing the competitiveness of business and industry and to Hong Kong's move towards a knowledge-based economy.

The concept of workflow

Selected contents in your profile will be used for statutory and internal reporting. Workflow ensures data quality: all records will go through a verification process to ensure data are consistent and compliant.

Workflows in PolyU Scholars Hub enable both you and administrators to keep this process a breeze. A record can only be finalized after dept admins have processed it. This applies to ALL content types:
