

02a_Understand the researcher's workspace interface

The researcher's workspace is made up of 5 parts:

1. Researcher profile
2. Summary of researcher contributions (based on the content type)
3. Tasks & notifications
4. Add new research outputs and other content
5. User profile

The screenshot shows the Pure interface for researcher Chan Tai Man. The interface is divided into several sections, with numbered callouts indicating key features:

- 1: Researcher profile section, including a profile picture, name (Chan Tai Man), and ORCID ID (0000-0000-0000-0000).
- 2: Summary of researcher contributions, including a table of Research outputs (527 journal articles, 27 conference presentations, 19 news articles) and Prizes (5 prizes, 1 honorary award).
- 3: Tasks and notifications sidebar, including a '+ Add content' button and a 'Tasks' section with notifications like 'Research outputs can be imported from Scopus'.
- 4: '+ Add content' button.
- 5: User profile section, including the name 'Chan Tai Man' and the ORCID ID.