

Publishing with The Royal Society of Chemistry

Dr. Daping Zhang

Executive Editor at The Royal Society of Chemistry

Abstract:

Introduction of The Royal Society of Chemistry including journals, books, magazines, database and other activities to promote advancing chemical sciences. Tips on how to publish on STM journals and introduction of collaboration between CCS and RSC.

Biography:

Dr Daping Zhang received his BSc in 1987 from Peking University and MSc in 1990 from Beijing University of Technology, China. After that, he worked as research assistant, lecturer and team leader in Beijing University of Technology for seven years and then received his PhD degree in 2000 from University of Newcastle upon Tyne, UK.

After three years Postdoc in University of Newcastle upon Tyne, Dr Zhang had been working in Tripos Discovery Research Center, UK and Resolution Chemicals Limited, UK for several years, focusing on R&D of new medicine and manufacturing of patent medicine. Afterwards, he joined The Royal Society of Chemistry (RSC) as a publisher to lead RSC publishing in Greater China. Currently, he is the Executive Editor of the Frontiers series journals of joint venture between CCS and RSC.

Date : 12 December 2016, Monday

Time : 2:30 p.m - 4:30 p.m

Venue : Room ST 602 (4D Theatre) , POLYU

ALL ARE WELCOME !