APEC Gateway Port Connectivity

The performance of APEC's ports and terminals operations is important for the competitiveness of the APEC economies. The Study on "Promotion of Regional Economic Integration by Developing APEC Gateway Port Connectivity" provides information on the underlying drivers of gateway port functions. The Director of the SRC (Venus Lun) participated in this study as a Keynote Speaker.

Winning Strategies on OBOR

One of the events of the Hong Kong Maritime Industry Week (HKMIW) 2016 was the Forum on Winning Strategies on One Belt One Road (OBOR) held on 26 November 2016 at The Hong Kong Polytechnic University (PolyU).

The organizers of this event were:

- Hong Kong Sea Transport and Logistics Association (HKSTLA)
- Shipping Research Centre (SRC) of PolyU
- Transport and Logistics Training Board.

The welcome remarks were delivered by Eric Wong (Chairman, HKSTLA) and Venus Lun (Director, SRC). The keynote speaker was the Hon. Frankie Yick (Legislative Council Member). The closing remark was delivered by W.H. Tsang (President, The Chartered Institute of Logistics and Transport in Hong Kong). More than 200 participants attended this event.

Supported by more than 30 local professional associations, this forum consisted of two sections to share winning strategies on OBOR with practitioners in Hong Kong's Logistics Industry:

- The first session on "Winning Strategies on One Belt" included the topics of business strategies (1) of the China-Europe Bridge, (2) at the China-Myanmar-Laos Border, and (3) in Iran,
- The second session on "Winning Strategies on One Road" covered the topics of business strategies in (1) Vietnam, (2) Iraq, (3) Thailand, and (4) Myanmar.

RMIT OBOR Colloquium

The RMIT One Belt One Road (OBOR) Colloquium was held on 30 November 2016. This Colloquium at the RMIT aimed to provide a platform to debate and develop a better understanding of the complex and interconnected challenges facing the field of logistics and supply in a globalised world. It also provided an opportunity for speakers to share their experience as editors or guest editors of scholarly journals.

Keynote speakers of this event:

- Anming Zhang, University of British Columbia, Canada
- Jiuh-bing Sheu, National Taiwan University, Taiwan
- Young-tae Chang, Inha University, Korea
- Venus Lun, The Hong Kong Polytechnic University, Hong Kong
- Zaili Yang, Liverpool John Moores University, UK
