

Dr Hongchang Li

School of Economics and Management

Beijing Jiaotong University, China

Sharing Transportation Development and Policy Challenges in China

In my presentation, the overall sharing of transportation development in China is introduced and basic questions regarding regulation and policy are proposed. Then, the presentation covers the passenger and cargo sharing activities in China and development scale, market impact, social influence and other aspects are discussed. Finally, the policy challenges facing the Chinese governments are brought forward and the theoretical and policy arguments in China are discussed. Then some basic conclusions are drawn.