

OUTSTANDING LSGI ALUMNI AWARD 2016

Winner of LSGI Outstanding Alumni Award 2016 - Dr. Lesly Lam

Dr. Lesly Lam, alumnus of the Department of Land Surveying and Geo-Informatics (LSGI) of The Hong Kong Polytechnic University, received his Bachelor (Honours) in Geomatics from the LSGI in 1995. He obtained his Doctoral degree from the University of South Australia. Since then, he strives to excel in the land surveying industry.

Dr. Lam served as the Chairman of both the Young Surveyors Group from 2003 to 2005 and the HKIS Land Surveying Division from 2013 to 2015. He was awarded Fellow of the Hong Kong Institute of Surveyors. Currently, he is a registered professional surveyor (LS Division), a hydrographic surveyor and an authorised land surveyor. He is also the Vice President of the Vanke Property (Hong Kong) Co. Ltd.

Besides his glittering achievements in the land surveying industry, Dr. Lam has made great contributions to the public through his active participation in different professional and community services. For instance, he serves at the Surveyors Registration Board, the Harbourfront Commission, and provides consultation service to the Pok Oi Hospital Construction. Despite his hectic schedule, Dr. Lam also tirelessly supports the events and development of LSGI. His successes and dedication serve as a role model to our students.

Congratulations to Dr. Lesly Lam on his receipt of the Outstanding LSGI Alumni Award 2016!
