At Cobalt, knitwear is our passion.

At Cobalt, knitwear is our passion. We're at the forefront of the global knitwear industry, working as the go-to source for global retailers and brands.

We are product specialists who create beautiful trend-driven knitwear by utilizing our extensive knowledge of yarn, experienced technical and manufacturing know-how; leveraging our market intelligence and competitive sourcing capabilities to work for our customers.

With speed and innovation leading the way we work, we use the latest in digital technology and work processes to constantly redefine the knitwear industry.

Cobalt: Innovating the knitwear industry for the world.

We are now seeking ambitious talents to join our team.

Position: Design Intern

Responsibilities:

- Support HK Designer in preparing the presentation material for our customers.
- Research runways/ retail such as aspirational benchmarks, competitors, and trends.
- Support designer in submitting digital requests and downloading completed digitals.
- Create illustrator sketches as per customers' requests.
- Maintain and organize design research/ yarn/ trim library in share drive.
- Assist designer in creating specification sheet of all samples & knit down development.
- Presentation deck: Find appropriate & brand-right plus and maternity 2D base model images for digital request / Find appropriate plus and maternity validation images / Cut-out images.
- Update Yarn book/ Trend: Cut swatches / Scan swatches and plug into deck/ Type up yarn information / Print hard copies and stick swatches on.

If you are interested, please send an email to Careers@cobaltknitwear.com.