Fashion Design Intern Role

Welcoming all current students who have an interest in fashion, design, collaboration and creativity, to apply for the below mentioned role. This role will focus on ladies' intimates and knitwear.

Role: Part-Time Fashion Design Intern

Location: Hong Kong (Hybrid)

1. Creative Inspiration & Initial Sketches

- Gather ideas and inspiration from the team's mood boards, trends, and previous work.
- Create initial style sketches reflecting the shared creative vision.
- Present these sketches to the team to discuss concepts, silhouette, and overall direction.

2. Team Feedback & Iteration

- Collect detailed feedback from the team on the sketches (e.g., fit, details, style elements).
- Modify the sketches to incorporate the feedback, refining the designs collaboratively.
- Ensure open communication to clarify any points and confirm alignment.

3. Fabric Recommendations & Tech Packs

- Review the team's fabric requirements for each style, focusing on key properties such as drape, stretch/recovery, performance (moisture-wicking, durability), and breathability.
- Suggest fabric options that best match these needs, explaining how each fabric's characteristics will impact the garment's fit, feel, and function.

- Support the team in making informed fabric choices that enhance the design and performance of the final product, and take ownership of creating tech packs.

This will be a part-time role, with some weekday time commitments being on-site with the team (HK Island and Mongkok).
