

Service-Learning Brainstorming Worksheet

This worksheet is modified from original work developed by Dr. K P KWAN (2017). The aim is to help SL subject/programme proposers to sound out their initial ideas logically and structurally to ensure effective development of quality SL subject/programme proposals.

Please provide your initial thoughts on the following questions:

Proposed Subject Name	:
Subject Proposer(s)	:
1) What is the academic focus of the subject? a) Concept and practice of service-learning b) Discipline-specific concepts and skills c) Project-specific concepts and skills		2) What is the service component? a) Who are the service recipients/ clients? b) What exactly are the service activities to be conducted by the students? c) What community or client needs (i.e. social and/or economic issues) are being addressed? d) How will the service benefit the recipients/ clients or the community? e) Who will be your prospective community partners?
How does the service component link to and support the academic focus of the subject?		