October 2013 issue

Teaching and learning activity

Dr. Enid Kwong conducted a talk on sensory stimulations to nursing home residents with dementia in Wan Wah Nursing Home of YWCA, on 30 Sept 2013. There were 30 participants including care staffs, family members and volunteers. Apart from one-hour lecture, the participants were also grouped in several small groups to share the strategies to interact with the residents with moderate to severe dementia.

Staff development activity

The publication entitled Effects of a Design Attributes on the Functional Performance of Restraint Garments for Hospital Patients of Prof Claudia Lai as a co-investigator with Dr Kit Lun YICK in a smart garment project, has been awarded with the Excellent Paper Award 2012.
