

News for the SN newsletter (February 2013): Centre for Gerontological Nursing

Wound care seminar delivered by a guest speaker - Dr. Kevin Woo

Our centre organized a seminar on Clinical Practice and Research on Wound Care on 25 January, 2013. There were 27 participants including colleagues, research students from SN and RS, as well as nurses from HA hospitals. The guest speaker, Dr Kevin Woo, is Assistant Professor at the School of Nursing, the Queen' University in Canada. He is also a skin and wound care consultant/advanced practice nurse of West Park Health Centre in Toronto. Dr. Woo shared his advanced nursing practices and studies concerning clinical care to patients with complex leg and food ulcers using vascular assessments and compression devices. Acting as an advanced practice nurse, researcher and university lecturer, he also shared with us how these different roles were interactively performed to improve clinical practice, research and teaching on wound care.

Recently accepted manuscript:

Liu, J.YW., Lai C., Dai D., Ting S., and Choi K. (In press). Physicians' attitudes in the management of patients with dementia: a comparison of those with and without special training in dementia. East Asian Archives of Psychiatry.