Dear Sir/Madam,

PolyU launches University Research Facility in Big Data Analytics

The Hong Kong Polytechnic University (PolyU) will hold an opening ceremony for the University Research Facility in Big Data Analytics (UBDA), the first university-wide research facility in big data analytics among universities in Hong Kong. Supported by big data expertise in PolyU and equipped with the most advanced computing infrastructure and tools today, UBDA is expected to foster cross-disciplinary research collaborations in PolyU, establish a strong partnership with industries on big data applications, and promote big data education in Hong Kong.

UBDA has already kicked off collaboration projects on big data analytics with partners including Alibaba, the Airport Authority Hong Kong (AAHK), Huawei, the Hong Kong Police Force and Microsoft. At the opening ceremony, PolyU representative will give an introduction of UBDA, while AAHK representative will elaborate on their big data project for reclaim belt allocation.

You and your representatives are cordially invited to attend the opening ceremony.
