

Outstanding Student, Faculty of Construction and Environment 2021

MAO Hoi Ching Jacqueline

BSc (Hons) in Land Surveying and
Geo-Informatics

It is my pleasure and indeed honour to be selected as the Outstanding Student of my Faculty. In my opinion, outstanding students should keep abreast of the new technology and stay hungry for knowledge. In addition, they should also focus on their personal growth and development which will help ensure career success and a rewarding life. Outstanding students should also always carry a serving heart and utilise their knowledge and skills to contribute to the betterment of the society whenever possible.

PolyU's education model has not only allowed me to acquire professional knowledge and technical skills through internship, Service-Learning and overseas exchange opportunities, but has also equipped me with the necessary personal skills through a wide range of social and leadership programmes. Growth often requires change. I am therefore not afraid of leaving my comfort zone and accepting all sorts of changes and challenges, since I do not want to miss out any available opportunities for learning and development. I am eager to expand my knowledge and improve my abilities as I strive for a fulfilling life.
